

Probate & Administration Form

When you need help to alleviate the burden of probate, we are here for you. As experienced counsel, we focus on the legal details to allow you time to grieve. Our probate and administration form should be completed by the executor who intends to engage our firm for assistance as it sets out the information that we will require to assist with the court filings. We recognize that an executor may not have all of the required information at hand and we recommend the executor to provide as much information as he or she does have so that our in person meetings can be focused on determining only those things we still require which will ultimately make the process faster and smoother.

Note: By completing this form, a solicitor client relationship should not be assumed as we are required to conduct a conflict check and provide you with an engagement letter as part of our regulatory and best practice requirements before we are fully engaged. While this form intends to gather the most relevant information, we reserve the right to ask for additional information which is necessary to provide effective counsel and assistance to you. Please note that as we are British Columbia lawyers and we assume that British Columbia law applies to you.

PLEASE PRINT CLEARLY. Fields marked with * are required
